

Dear Hiring Manager,

When I was younger, I thought It would be cool to be James Bond, getting paid to travel and stay in exotic places. Years later, my taste changed and Link, the computer hacker in the Matrix became my guy. In a healthy mix of the two I want to be the computer hacker that helps Bond find excellent housing in a manner so pleasurable and convenient that he could do so while in the middle of a car chase.

Hello, my name is Alexander Poe and I am experienced with modern tooling, server side frameworks, and have an expert knowledge of JavaScript. With this letter, I hope to communicate my interest and why I would be a great candidate for the position of front end developer.

Recently I developed a few apps using ES6, React, Redux, Node.js and PostgreSQL as well as a finance app using React-Native. Furthermore, this opening is an excellent match to my background and recent education in full stack web development. I have five years of professional experience in a teamwork-driven environment and I am familiar with the team process with a focus on high quality CX.

If the credentials detailed in my resume appear to be suited for your needs, I would welcome the chance to learn more about Airbnb's goals and to outline my strengths in person.

Thank you for your time and consideration, and I look forward to speaking with you.

Sincerely,

Alexander Poe
